IN HOSPITAL.

Friends of Mrs. Ed. C. Gaines will be glad to know that she is improving after an operation at the Danville hospital Wednesday. Should she continue to improve, she hopes to be out in two weeks.

DINNER AT KENGARLAN.

Arrangements are being perfected to give the boys who leave for Camp Taylor Friday morning, a dinner at the Kengarian hotel tonight.

The boys will be presented with comfort bags and other useful articles by the local W. C. T. U.

OFFERS RESIGNATION.

County Road Engineer, W. A. Doty offered his resignation to the Fiscal Court last Wednesday, but was not accepted owing to the fact that a suitable successor could not be had at this time. The appointment is for one year from October first and carries a salary of $1,000 a year.

MADE GOOD SALES.

Finch and Woods had satisfactory sales last week when they sold the Brandenburg farm of 95 acres at an average of $153 an acre. The Dr. Ramsey place being sold to three parties, Harry McWhorter buying the home and 65 acres at $150.00; R. C. Paullner nine acres at $162.50 and A. T. Bowling five acres at $163.00 an acre.

MORE EXEMPTIONS.

The local Exemption Board had the following names sent them from the District Board which were exempted from military service having appealed their cases from the local board, mostly for industrial reasons. Those exempted are: Victor Sanders, James D. Rankin, Hamp McQuary, John I. Isbell and Kirby Tearter.

PATRIOTIC COMMUNITY.

No more patriotic community can be found in the State than is in the Bryantsville section of the county. Beside the work that is being done by the Red Cross there, the local W. C. T. U. with only twenty-one members, has prepared twenty-six comfort bags for the soldiers that are leaving this county and in each bag there is a nice bible. They have also raised $20.00 for the Library Fund, which goes to Camp Taylor.

WILD FOR HORSE MEAT.

Mr. W. J. Romans has just returned from Cincinnati and was in that city the day the markets were opened up for the sale of horse meat. He says the people were waiting for nearly a square, waiting their turn to be served the equine, which was selling like hot griddle cakes at prices ranging from 5 cents to 10 cents a pound for a choice porterhouse. It did not appeal to the palate of Mr. Romans however, and he declined to buy even a soup bone.

LOCAL RED CROSS.

Chapter Kept Busy.

The members of the local Red Cross Chapter are kept busy furnishing necessary boxes for the soldiers, a number of them having been shipped during the past week, including Box 4, containing surgical dressings and wash clothes; Box 5, containing Hospital bed shirts, and Box 6, containing 404 trench candles.

ORGANIZE WOMEN FOR LIBERTY BOND SALE.

State, county, city and precinct organizations of women will be formed within the next few days for the purpose of impressing upon them the importance of the success of the next Liberty Loan. The campaign began Monday and will come to a close October 27 or earlier if Secretary McAdoo so determines.

Mrs. George Robinson has been made chairman of Garrard County whose duty it will be to arrange meetings and speakers and have these explain the cause of the war and the necessity of every woman purchasing a Liberty Bond, not only because it is a good investment, but because it is a patriotic duty. It is urged the women will save and make money and buy these bonds.

LIST OF MEN ORDERED TO REPORT TO THIS LOCAL BOARD FOR MILITARY DUTY

And For Transportation To The Mobilization Camp at Camp Taylor, Louisville.

The following-named men are hereby ordered to report at the office of this Local Board for military duty and for transportation to a mobilization camp. The time they must report is 3 P. M. on October 4th 1917. From the hour and date above named, the men herein shall be in the military service of the United States and subject to military law.

This is the third increment that has been called from this county and the list includes some of the finest manhood in any section of the state. There are twenty-three names in the list, but only twenty-two will be sent, one man being named as a substitute in case of sickness of one of the others.

They will be held at the Kengarian Hotel Thursday night and will entrain at 8:40 Friday morning, connecting with special train at Stanford at 2 o'clock, reaching Camp Zachary Taylor the same afternoon.

URGE EXPULSION OF LA FOLLETTE.

A communication from the Governor of Minnesota and the State Public Safety Commission requesting the expulsion from the Senate of Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, was presented in the Senate by Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, and referred by Vice President Marshall to the Senate Privileges and Elections Committee. Characterizing La Follette's speech in St. Paul September 20 before the Nonpartisan League as "disloyal and seditious", the resolution declares the utterances already have served to create treasonable sentiment in Minnesota, and petitions the Senate to begin proceedings to expel La Follette as "a teacher of disloyalty and sedition, giving aid and comfort to our enemies and hindering the Government in the conduct of the war".

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN MUCH ENTHUSIASM MARKED PATRIOTIC WEEK IN GARRARD.

Patriotic week in Garrard county was carried out according to schedule as laid out in our issue of last week.

Interesting programs were had at the various meetings, beginning last Wednesday afternoon at Mt. Tabor. The speakers on this occasion being Hon. H. Chay Kauffman, Rev. F. M. Tindler and Miss Neville.

On Thursday afternoon the one billed for Bryantsville, was married by the heavy rain which began early in the morning and continued throughout the day. Friday afternoon an interesting program and musical was arranged for Buena Vista, by Mrs. Abner and Mrs. Hogan Ballard. A good crowd attended and much patriotism shows.

The grand finale was held in Lancaster Saturday afternoon when speakers from a distance were on hand, those speaking being Senator Booles, of Taylorsville and Senator Zimmerman, of Shepherdsville. The court house auditorium was filled to its doors and the speeches of the gentlemen were received with much enthusiasm and patriotic outbursts of applause.

Hon. H. Clay Kauffman was the chairman of this meeting introducing the speakers in his own inimitable way.

The meetings were all held under the auspices of the Garrard County Council of Defense, and the following auxiliary members were named from each of the magisterial districts of the county, all of whom are among our best citizens and will add very materially to the strength of the organization. They are as follows: Bryantsville district—G. A. Bowling, J. C. Williams, J. P. Hann, W. T. Doolin, Charlie Rankin. Buckeye district—R. L. Burton, Robt. Long, Sim Wheeler, Nat Prewitt, Ed Chandler. Paint Lick district—Rice Woods, Walter Center, R. C. Boalin, W. C. Wynn, R. H. Ledford. Lancaster district—Joe J. Walker, Jr., S. D. Cochran, R. C. Clark, Ross Bastin and J. W. Elmore.

With a big corn crop and an unprecedented price for hogs certainly there is an incentive for Kentucky farmers to increase their swine supply.

What Sherman said about war will be looked upon as a mild characterization compared with what future generations will have to say about it.

All the shirkers will earn their duty in time. When they find their true relative positions they will begin to understand the principal of universal service.

Five billions is a large large sum but there are enough patriotic citizens to raise it. Do your part, whether you be man, woman or child, rich or poor, high or low. It is not only your patriotic duty but it is a good investment.

An increase in the potato crop this year of one hundred and seventy-seven millions of bushels over the crop of last year and a considerable increase over the acreage for the previous five years, is a suggestion of the possibilities of this country in potato production

Another opportunity for Kentucky to do her part in the increase of agricultural production is in the sheep industry. Sheep, lambs and wool have advanced in proportion to other commodities. In fact, the advance in wool is one of the big advances of the big advances of the year.

The codfish lays a million eggs while the helpful hen lays one.
But the codfish does not cackle to inform us what she's done.
And so we scorn the codfish, but the helpful hen we praise;
Which indicates to thoughtful minds it pays to advertise.

BRYANTSVILLE

Mr. M. O. Kennedy was in Lexington several days last week.

Mrs. A. G. T. Smith has been visiting relatives in Lincoln.

Hon. Merriweather Smith of Harrodsburg was here for a short time Sunday.

Mrs. C. C. Becker entertained a few of her friends at a delightful dinner Tuesday.

Messrs J. C. Williams and H. W. McAfee were in Lexington on business Monday.

Mrs. Margaret Parr of Lebanon Ind. is here for a visit to her sister, Mrs. Fanny Bryant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chesnut of Danville were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Becker, Sunday.

Mrs. J. E. Ballard and Miss Marie Ballard of Lancaster were the guests of Mrs. J. W. Bryant, Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Berkele and Miss Mary Belle Halcomb enjoyed a motor trip to Danville and Harrodsburg, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams and children, and Miss Evelyn Campbell were the guests of friends at Burgin, Sunday.

Mrs. W. J. Hogan returned home Friday from Stanford where she had a very pleasant stay of two weeks with relatives.

Mr. W. H. Swope bought the 20 shares of stock in The Bank of Bryantville which was sold here Saturday afternoon. The shares were sold to settle the estate of the late J. W. Scott.

Mrs. Ada Burke of Louisville came Friday for a visit to friends here. Mrs. Burke formerly lived here and her many friends are delighted to see her again. She is with Mrs. W. H. Swope at present.

During the absence of Dr. B. C. Rose who is at Martinsville, Ind. for a recuperative stay of two weeks, his brother, Dr. Samuel J. Rose of Pa., has charge of his practice. Dr. Samuel Rose has enlisted in the Medical Corps of Uncle Sam's army and was made First Lieutenant. He and Mrs. Rose are here for a visit to relatives while waiting to receive further orders.

A very good crowd attended the "Patriotic Meeting" Thursday at the Bryantville High School. The program was very interesting and a most delightful lunch was served. Hon. H. Clay Kauffman and Judge L. L. Walker were not here and their many acquaintances were very much disappointed not to hear them. Miss Linda Neville of Lexington gave a very instructive talk on Trachoma. Rev. F. M. Tindler was also enjoyed and as he leaves soon to make his home at North Middletown it was with much regret he was heard for the last time before leaving.

The entire community was greatly shocked Sunday when they heard of the sudden death of Mrs. J. M. Edwards which occurred at her home at Marcellus. Mrs. Edwards had been in apparently good health and had just returned home from services at Pleasant Grove church when she began suffering with a very severe headache. A physician was immediately summoned but Mrs. Edwards was dead when he arrived. She was the wife of J. M. Edwards, a prominent farmer who moved here about five years ago from Estill Co. buying the R. M. Robinson farm. Mrs. Edwards was formerly Miss Mona Wagers of Estill County, and was 49 years of age. She is survived by her husband and three children, Messrs Harry and Arnold Edwards, and Mrs. Frank Congleton of Irvine, who have the sympathy of every one in their bereavement. Mrs. Edwards united with the Christian church when 16 years of age and had lived a consistent Christian life ever since. At the time of her death she was one of the most active members of Pleasant Grove Church. The funeral services were conducted at her home Tuesday morning at ten o'clock by her former pastor, Rev. H. C. Bell, of Burnside, after which the interment was made in the Lancaster cemetery. She had made many friends since moving here and was greatly liked by every one who knew her and she will be greatly missed in the community.

"It matters little at what hour of the day The righteous fall asleep; Death cannot come to him untimely Who has learned to die. The less of this brief life, the more of heaven; The shorter time, the longer immortality."

THE LEXINGTON HERALD ANNOUNCES ADVANCES IN THEIR MAIL RATES.

The Lexington Herald has revised its mail subscription rates, effective October 15th. The new rates will be, 65c per month, for one to two months, $1.80 for three months, $3.50 for six months, and $6.00 for one year, payable in advance under all circumstances. Most prices have advanced 50 to 100 per cent. The Herald subscription rates are advanced only 20 per cent. Even at the new rate the mail subscriber will get the paper for considerably less than the subscriber who receives it by carrier in Lexington or Central Kentucky towns. The Herald has greatly improved its service to the reader, increasing its composition facilities 50 per cent and adding many new attractive features.

RED BLOOD AMERICANISM IS COMING TO THE FRONT

Right now this Country is calling for men of stout hearts and sound bodies. It needs them to keep Old Glory triumphant and unsullied in the air.

The exigency now confronting us emphasizes, as nothing else could do, the importance of good health, both as an individual and national asset.

It gives point to the suggestion, often emanating from this office, that everybody should guard their health as a priceless possession. When you find yourself running down and not exactly keyed up to the fighting pitch, as is the case with everybody at times. You ought to come to Nature's relief and take a course of

Mrs. [S. F. Cowan and attractive little daughter, Imogene Cowan, of Spokane Wash, have returned home after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Menefee. Wallace Singleton, who has been at Cincinnati for some time, was at home the first of the week with home folks and friends before going to Camp Sherman at Chillicothe Ohio. Miss Jean Paxton left Wednesday for Washington City to enter Martha Washington Seminary. Her father, Mr. J. B. Paxton accompanied her. Cards from them state that they had a grand trip. Ed Hubbard, the republican nominee for sheriff, who was held without bail, for killing Smith Baughman at his examining trial, gave up his certificate of nomination last week. So far the republicans have not nominated any one. The third lot of the ones drafted in this county will leave Friday for Camp Taylor. There are fifteen to go this time. J. E. Jordan, who has been local telephone manager here for several years, is in the next draw and it is with regret that his host of friends give him up.

YOU

My son, your Country calls you!
Gird your armor for the fray!
It is calling you—not others,
And it's calling you today.
Can't you hear the bugle sounding,
Ah! no matter where you roam?
It is calling you to battle
For your land, your folks, your home.
Can you watch your friends, your comrades,
As they pass with measured tread;
Can you really, truly see them
With a shameless unbowed head?
Can you read of glory, honor,
And of Death so far away,
With your friends who knew tomorrow
Could not come, so went today?
Can you think of them returning
When those guns shall sound no more—
Lauded, honored by their country,
Each a veteran of war?
Can you think of that dim future
When your child—as children do—
Talk in boastful ways of daddy?
Could he truly boast of you?
Oh, I know that there are others,
And I thought you'd say it, too;
But remember, friend, these verses
Are for those who read them—you!

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Humphreys and daughter, Margaret, of Nicholasville, and Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Bogie and son, of Lexington, were guests of Mr. John Rayston and family, Sunday.

Rev. J. W. Mahan has returned home after holding a two weeks meeting with his church at Preachersville. There were several additions, the baptism taking place Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kemper will leave Tuesday for Quitman Georgia to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Wm Anderson, stopping at Valeosta to visit friends. They will be greatly missed in the community.

The little grammar class under the tutorage of Miss Margaret Jenkins at Mason, is improving rapidly, and Miss Jenkins is very proud of their work. Just recently she read the Biography of Sara Bonheur to the class and among the splendidly written papers were by Thelma Hamilton, Marie Clark, Betty Walton and Billy Naylor.

WHAT HE DIDN'T WANT...AND

...WHAT HE GOT!

Uncle Eben.
"Some men tries to make deirse's disagreeable," said Uncle Eben; "an' some don't have to try."

Quite Common Failing.
"De only bit some men does," said Uncle Eben, "is to talk a little bit, re-mindin' others to do deir bit."

Few Are What They Seem.
In all the professions, every one affects a particular look and exterior, in order to appear what he wishes to be thought; so that it may be said the world is made up of appearances.—La Rochefoucauld.

Finding a Sleeping Place.
Robert wanted to stay all night at the place he and his mother were visiting. His mother told him there was no room, he'd have to sleep on the floor. "Hasn't your bed got a middle?" he asked his hostess.

Bricks in Biblical Times.
The Jews learned the art of brick making in Egypt. We find the use of the brick kiln in David's time (II Samuel, 12:31). A complaint is made by Isaiah that the people built altars of brick instead of unhewn stone as the law directed (Isaiah, 19:3; Exodus 20:25).

To Remove Rust Stains.
To remove rust stains from any fabric take the juice of a lemon and some salt and mix together. Rub it well into the material and then hang in the sun to dry. Repeat the second time if the first doesn't bring all the stain out. The second time the stain will all be removed.

Authorship Long Hidden.
The Waverley novels were so called because the first of the series was called Waverley. It was published anonymously in 1814, and was followed, year after year, by other novels all published anonymously until 1827, when at a public dinner party Scott admitted the authorship.

Cosmic Dust.
When a "shooting star" strikes our atmosphere, its energy or motion is transformed into heat, from the friction produced by the air, and the "star" is literally burned to ashes. These ashes fall upon us in a continual shower, and constitute the greater part of what is commonly known as cosmic dust.

Newly Acquired Dignity.
Elmer brought home the morning mail, in which was the news of the arrival of mother's first grandchild. We other four children, as well as half a dozen of the neighbors, were sitting on the grass in the yard when Elmer, full of the news, rushed upon us, screaming at the top of his voice: "Get out of the way for your Uncle Elmer." — Exchange.

Hang Watch at Night.
The care of the watch at night or when it is not in use is an important item, concerning which the United States Bureau of Standards states: "At night or when the watch is not in use it is desirable to leave the watch in the same position as during the day, and preferably in some place where it will not be subject to any great temperature change."

Pageantry.
Daisies and buttercups gave way to brown, waving grasses, tinged with the warm-red sorrel; the waving grasses are swept away and the meadows lie like emeralds set in the bushy hedgerows; the tawny-tipped corn begins to bow with the weight of the full ear; the reapers are bending amongst it and it soon stands in sheaves; then, presently, the patches of yellow stubble lie side by side with streaks of dark red earth, which the plow is turning up in preparation for the new-threshed seed.—George Elliot.

True Sympathy.
Happy people need sympathizers. Rejoice with those who rejoice.

Parsnips.
For some years a boiled parsnip was long considered in some regions of Europe to be the proper vegetable to serve with salt fish, but this tradition is not followed in the United States, plain boiled or fried parsnips being commonly served with roast meats of any sort. They are also used for soups, for fritters, and so on.

Condition of Life.
It is true that air and moisture conditions are necessary conditions which make possible soil life, but they do not constitute life. We have seen a previous article state that warmth is a cardinal point of life action. When we speak of life in a soil we must contemplate active life represented by some kind of growth or development and a dead soil is characterized by inactivity or inaction.

Goldbeating an Ancient Art.
Goldbeating as an industry is as ancient and honorable as it is fascinating and wonderful. It is practiced in almost exactly the same way today as it was by goldworkers of ancient Greece and still more ancient Egypt. Incredible as it may seem, there are well-authenticated instances of gold having been beaten down to more than the three hundred thousandth part of an inch in thickness or thinness.

Be Honest With Yourself.
Do you really believe all that you say, yourself? Stop a minute and look back, and think. Are you sure of all that you assert, and have you a positive conviction concerning all that you put forth? If you do not honestly hold to everything you say, how can you expect others to accept your words? If you do not actually believe what you say, then you are unlikely to act upon it, no matter how good it may be. We need to be very honest with ourselves.

Large Families Chinese Distinction.
The Chinese are proud of large families, and a large family living together under one roof is looked upon as proof of the good temper and correct course of life of its members and as a sure path to prosperity. A large family which is able to live together without dividing up the property always receives much credit and is highly respected. It is one of the highest distinctions in China to have Wu Fu Tung Tang, or five generations, under one roof, although such a distinction is attained by very few.

Rain

Old Jupiter Pluvius takes fiendish delight in ruining poorly protected buildings. At every little crack or bare spot in the paint, the rain soaks in and spreads rot through the wood.

To last, your buildings must be as waterproof as a staunch boat. They will be, if well coated with paint made of Dutch Boy White-Lead thinned with pure linseed oil. Such paint gives a smooth, weatherproof surface that will not crack or scale. It gives beauty, also.

Before the next rain, call on us about painting and painting materials. We expect you. If you can't call, phone or write.

RICH PURSES

PROMISED FAIR

Commissioner Cohen Will Add Two More $10,000 Stakes.

Commissioner of Agriculture Mat S. Cohen announced that he not only will have his $10,000 saddle-horse ring at the Kentucky State Fair again next year, but will add two more $10,000 stakes, the world's highest, awards in cattle rings. One will be for feeding cattle and the other for show cattle. It is expected that these rich purses will make the fair rival the big shows in Chicago and Kansas City. The stakes are designed to encourage breeding in this State, which will be divided into three districts for the distribution of the stakes for Kentucky-bred stock.

WILL NOT TRY TO BUILD

In the spring we planned to add an industrial room to our school building. Part of the community was canvassed and gave pledges to the amount of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars. It is fair to say that only a small part of the community was solicited.

On account of the high cost of living and the crisis through which the country is passing, we decided not to build. Of the persons who promised, only three volunteered and paid. Their money will be refunded. The money raised on tag day will be used for industrial work.

The children raised $14.23 at their entertainment August 24th, which was used to fix up their play grounds.

Our next effort will be to raise money to make walks around the building so we can keep out of the mud this winter. We thank you for your help. Children. J. J. Green, Prin.

RECEPTION TO BROTHER TINDER AND FAMILY. Large Audience Hear Farewell Sermon Sunday Night.

The members of the Christian church gave a reception in honor of the departure of Brother Tinder and his family, who leave soon for their new home at North Middletown. The reception was given at the church last Friday evening and the auditorium was filled.

As a slight token of the esteem in which he is held, Brother Tinder was presented with a handsome gold watch and chain, the gift of his church members. The presentation was made by Mr. B. F. Hudson, who did it well and feelingly with choice spoken words.

Another parting tribute was made by Brother Tinder Sunday school class, in a handsome silver bowl, being presented on behalf of the class by Mrs. George Robinson.

So surprised was the recipient of the beautiful gifts that it was with much effort that he could express his appreciation in accepting the gifts and to thank the hosts of friends that he has made during the fourteen years of his ministry in Lancaster.

The auditorium was filled on Sunday night to hear his farewell sermon, as was also at the services Sunday morning.

Pastors of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches occupied the pulpit with Brother Tinder's Sunday evening, they having adjourned their services to meet with him, whose services have not been confined to the interests of his own brotherhood only, during his fourteen years of ministry here, but have been freely given to every enterprise and organization which would rebound to the uplift of the community.

A feeling of profound regret pervades the entire community at the departure of Brother Tinder and his esteemed family.

At the services Sunday night, this feeling found expression in beautiful tributes paid by Rev. H. S. Hudson, of the Presbyterian church and Rev. Palmer of the Methodist church.

His own congregation gives him up with regret and reluctance, but feels that the splendid work done by Brother Tinder will live long in its influence with the young people with whom he has labored so faithfully, and they together with the more mature members, wish him every success in his new field of labor.

At a meeting of the Board of Officers of the church a committee was named to draw suitable resolutions bearing upon the departure of Brother Tinder and family and which we print in full. Whereas, Brother F. M. Tinder having served the Christian Church at Lancaster so faithfully and efficiently as its pastor during the past fourteen years, and

Whereas, he has been called to labor with the church at North Middletown, Ky.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Board of Officers of this church, that we hereby express our sincere appreciation of the work done by him, during these years, which has been wonderfully blessed by the Heavenly Father. That, we exceedingly regret giving up Brother Tinder and his estimable family,

That, our prayers and cordial good wishes go with him into his new home, and,

That, he will be spared many, many years, that his labors may be as fruitful in his new field as they were in this.

That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and a copy be handed Brother Tinder and also be published in the Central Record.

B. F. Hudson, Chairman
Committee on Resolutions.

RESOLUTIONS.

At a meeting of the Board of Officers of the Christian Church, a committee was named to draft suitable resolutions upon the leaving from our community, Mr. Robert T. Embry and family, they having recently moved to Lexington, Ky.

The resolutions referred to follow: Whereas, it has been decreed that our highly esteemed Elder and Assistant Superintendent of the Christian Church Sunday school, Mr. R. T. Embry, shall leave our midst, therefore be it resolved,

That, we the church and the Sunday School has been superlatively blessed by his teachings and assistance,

That his services will be missed, not only from the church, but from the community as well.

That we bear witness to his pure, sincere and devoted Christian character, always ready to respond to the calls and needs of his friends and fellowmen.

That, although we deeply regret the loss of him and his estimable family, we can heartily commend them to the church and community into which they have cast their lot.

That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and that same be published in the Central Record.

B. F. Hudson, Chairman,
Committee on Resolutions.

STONE.

Mr. John Stone died at the home of a niece in Woodford county last Friday and was buried in the Lancaster cemetery Sunday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. F. M. Tinder. Mr. Stone was one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Garrard county and his death occasioned deep regret among his life-long friends and relatives. Mr. Stone was born in Adair county eighty years ago but had lived in Garrard fifty years, and was connected by blood and marriage to some of our best citizens. He was married in early life but never had any children. He was a life long member of the Christian church.

EDWARDS.

Many who knew her were grieved to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. J. M. Edwards at her home near Marcellus last Sunday afternoon. The attack came while preparing dinner and no previous illness had given any indication that her health was impaired, a cerebral hemorrhage causing her sudden demise.

Much sympathy is expressed for the grief stricken husband, who alone was with her when the end came. Mrs. Edwards was born 49 years ago at Wageraville, Ky., and was a daughter of Mr. S. D. Wagers, having moved to this county about five years ago, since which time she has made many friends who are grieved at her passing away. She was married to Mr. J. M. Edwards, September 2nd, 1886 and beside her husband is survived by three children, Mrs. F. C. Congleton, of Irvine, Ky and Messrs Harry and Arnold of this county. She leaves three brothers and two sisters, one of the latter being Mrs. L. T. Wilson, of Richmond. Mrs. Edwards was a devout member of the Christian church, having united with this denomination in her young childhood, her membership at the time of her death being at Pleasant Grove. Funeral services were held at her late home last Tuesday morning conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. C. Bell, assisted by Rev. F. M. Tinder, after which interment took place in the Lancaster cemetery.

TRAGIC DEATH

Of Young Boy Sunday Afternoon.

Thurman Clark, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Clark met with a peculiar accident Sunday afternoon about four o'clock from the effects of which he died two hours later. The little fellow together with several little playmates were playing on the farm of Mr. Sam Clark, near town, climbing small saplings, pulling them over and letting them fly back. Thurman climbed one that proved to be a dead one, which gave away and let the little fellow fall, striking his head, causing a lesion of the cord at the base of the brain.

He ran to his father, who was only a few yards away, but in a few minutes he became unconscious. He was hurried to town, and a physician summoned but it was soon seen that death was near and at five-thirty o'clock he died, never regaining consciousness.

The body was taken to the home on Maple avenue and on Monday afternoon interment took place in the Lancaster cemetery. The parents of this dear little boy have the deepest sympathy of the community in the loss and tragic death of one they love so dearly.

NOTICE.

The Men's Bible Class and the Women's Bible Class of the Lancaster Methodist Sunday School invite all the members of both classes, all the adult members of the Methodist Church, and all the adult Methodist persons in the community, together with their husbands or wives to be present at the church Friday night at 7:30.

Mrs. W. E. Moss,
Mrs. Ike Hamilton,
Miss Jennie Lackey,
Mrs. F. D. Palmeter, Com.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

The evangelistic services will begin at the Lancaster Methodist Church, Monday night, October 8th. The services will be led by Dr. E. G. B. Mann, assisted by Rev. Robert Lear as singer. Dr. Mann resides in Lexington, Ky, and is Presiding Elder of the Lexington District. He was for a number of years connected with the Central Methodist as proprietor and editor, or as one of the proprietors and editors, having sold his interest in the paper one year ago. Each year for several years, he has held a number of successful revivals in this and other states. He is an interesting speaker, presenting the Gospel in its simplicity and fullness.

Rev. Lear, whose home is in Marion, Ky, is a successful singer, as well as a preacher. He has been engaged in this work for some time. He has held successful meetings in several states of the Union, either as singer, or preacher, or both singer and preacher.

The public is cordially invited to these services, which will be held twice each day, at 10 A. M. and 7 P. M.

F. D. Palmeter, Pastor.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of expressing our sincere and heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses shown us by neighbors and friends at the death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. J. M. Edwards. We also thank the pastors for their consoling words, and the singers for the beautiful songs.
J. M. Edwards and family.

A SUMPTUOUS MELON FEAST

Mr. Walker Guyn and his estimable wife, on last Tuesday eve, displayed their Kentucky kindness and hospitality, by treating the High School teachers and their neighboring friends to a delicious melon feast, which was enjoyed very much by their guests, judging from the many nice compliments that were heard passed. The Madames and Misses were all clad in their best Sunday regalia for the enjoyable affair. There was never such an array of talent, beauty, sunshine and happiness displayed on such a sociable occasion. The Kentucky ladies of the "Promised Land" have the wide world reputation as being the most beautiful, purest and most modest ladies on God's foot-stool, as they make the best and most devoted wives and mothers. They are well worthy of all compliments bestowed upon them.
Yours respectfully,
Will G. McKinney,
Montgomery, Alabama.

A GOOD HOG FEEDER.

One of the best records made in the recent hog feeding contest was made by Earl McWhorter of Paint Lick. On May 20 Earl secured a little Red Berkshire gilt weighing only 35 pounds. He brought the pig home in a sack and carefully began to feed it. Unfortunately he had absolutely no pasture and all the green stuff the pig obtained during the contest was a little grass thrown over to her after cutting the yard. The pig was 2 months and 17 days old when the contest began and 6 months and 5 days at the close. At the end of the contest the pig weighed 192 pounds and she was not pushed to the limit. This made a total gain of 157 pounds or about 1 1/2 pounds per day during the contest with a cost per pound of 7 cents. The pig was fed shorts, tankage and a mixture of barley and corn. This gilt was taken to Stanford Fair and there won first in her class. Earl's record book was a model of neatness and his work was certainly most creditable. All in all it seems that Garrard County has a right to be proud of both the boy and the Red Berkshire gilt.

Most Powerful of Snakes.

One of the most difficult reptiles to capture is the regal python, also a native of India, that giant snake that measures as long as 30 feet in extreme cases. This immense constrictor had in its wonderful coils the strength to crush an ox. A 10-foot python could shoot its head forward, strike a big man in the chest, fell him, and crush him bone from bone—and the pythons caught by the snake man are twice and sometimes three times as long.

KENTUCKIANS RALLY TO CALL SENT OUT FOR FOOD SAVING

Vast Army of Patriotic Citizens Bend to Task of Conserving Available Supply—Forty County Chairmen are Named—Pledges to Be Signed October 21

GRATIFICATION was expressed to by Fred M. Sackett, Federal Food Administrator for Kentucky, over the early evidences that Kentucky men and women are ready and willing to co-operate with the government in plans to conserve the nation's food supply.

Pledges in large number are being received by Mr. Sackett, the writers promising they will lend the fullest measure of co-operation in eliminating waste and will not lose any opportunity of preaching "the gospel of the clean plate."

Mr. Sackett said: "The women of Kentucky have responded splendidly to the call sent out from Washington to can vegetables and fruits. They have astounded the world by their remarkable achievement. They have set up a record that will not be approached in a long time. And the women are not through yet. They are still canning and preserving and our own Kentucky women are in the forefront in the truly wonderful record that has been established."

"I think the present is a good time to point out that we are face to face with another problem—that of conserving the supply on hand. I am confident that the women of Kentucky will meet this new problem of eliminating waste in much the same spirit as they took hold of the canning problem. I do not believe that I am overstating the case when I say the mothers, wives and sweethearts of our soldiers at the front will solve this new problem with glory and credit to themselves and with honor to this great nation."

Economy Means Victory.

Attention was directed to President Wilson's proclamation of July 30 last when he told the women of America: "Every pound of vegetables properly put by for future use, every jar of fruit preserved, adds that much to our insurance of victory."

It is time to renew this insurance now that the canning season is drawing to a close, according to Mr. Sackett, and this can be done by simply signing a pledge card like that appearing at the bottom of these columns and placing it in the hands of those in charge of the county organization.

Volunteer workers will distribute these pledges, beginning October 21, and no county securing the signatures of less than 75 per cent of the number of families in that county will have been successful in its campaign, according to the view taken by the Food Administration at Washington.

The work of organizing the counties in Kentucky is in full swing and there is no man or woman in this county who can not help make this great undertaking a complete success. In counties where the larger cities are located the goal fixed by the Food Administration for the number of signatures is 90 per cent of the total number of families. It is hoped by Mr. Sackett that even a larger number than the figures quoted will be obtained and the State Food Administrator believes the minimum figures for signatures will be secured if the willingness to lend a hand now evidenced is indicative of the interest being taken to make the Food Administration's work a success.

County Chairmen Named.

County chairmen appointed by Mr. Sackett have been instructed regarding their duties and have reported to the Food Administrator that they are now at work. Call upon your chairman today and volunteer to assist in any way you can. A partial list of chairmen follows:

Anderson—Miss Mary Paxton, Lawrenceburg.
Barren—Mrs. Alice Gorin Taylor, Glasgow.
Bourbon—Miss Lucy Simms, Paris.
Boyd—Mrs. Charles Alexander Slaughter, Ashland.
Boyle—Mrs. J. I. A. McDowell, Danville.
Bracken—Mrs. Marion Landerback, Augusta.
Breckenridge—Miss Elizabeth Skillman, Cloverport.
Clark—Mrs. R. M. Scobee, Winchester.
Cay—Mrs. Georgia Hatton, Manchester.
Cumberland—Mrs. Ownsley, Burkesville.
Fayette—Mrs. Shelby Harrison, Lexington.
Franklin—Miss Cornelia Weitzel, Frankfort.
Gallatin—Mrs. Rose B. Wood, Glencoe.
Henderson—Mrs. Henry Lyne, Henderson.
Henry—Mrs. Julius C. Helburn, Eminence.
Hickman—Mrs. Jennie Brower, Clinton.

Jefferson—Mrs. George C. Weldon, Eastleigh, and Mrs. Fred Levy, 1823 Third.

Jessamine—Mrs. D. P. Hemphill, Nicholasville.

Kenton—Miss Luella E. Boyd, 218 Wallace Ave., Covington.

Larue—Miss Nettie V. Hansboro, Hodgenville.

Laurel—Mrs. Gene Hackney, London.

Lyon—Fleetly M. Lynn, Kuttawa.

Magoffin—Mrs. J. H. Gardner, Salyersville.

Marion—Mrs. Thomas F. Cleaver, Lebanon.

Mason—Mrs. W. H. Cox, Maysville.

Meade—Mrs. Glave Goddard, Harrodsburg.

Nicholas—Miss Jennie Tilton, Carlisle.

Ohio—Mrs. J. S. Glenn, Hartford.

Perry—Mrs. H. C. Faulkner, Hazard.

Pike—Miss Mary Auxier, Pikesville.

Pulaski—Mrs. M. C. Williams, Somerset.

Rockcastle—Miss Mary Bradley, Mt. Vernon.

Shelby—Mrs. George Armstrong, Shelbyville.

Todd—Mrs. Jennie Street, Elkton.

Trigg—Miss Eva Apperson, Cadiz.

Wayne—Mrs. W. W. Kendrick, Monticello.

Whitley—Mrs. M. A. Gray, Corbin.

Your county chairman will tell you that signing a pledge card obligates you in no other way than that you mean to live up to the promise made for yourself and family to waste no article of food. It implies that you are willing to serve at your table the perishable foods that you have been putting away during the past few months and thereby render available to our own soldiers and to those of our allies over the sea every grain of wheat and every ounce of flour it is possible for this country to spare.

Confiscation Lie Nailed.

The Food Administration has denied a widely circulated story, probably emanating from pro-German sources, that the government is planning to confiscate all canned goods, in excess of 100 quarts, in the possession of one family. There is a further elaboration of this silly rumor to the effect that the government intends to take away from American families vegetables and fruits that have been dried and preserved and ship them to England. This deliberate propaganda is denounced as an unqualified falsehood by the Food Administration. The government urges that canning be continued and says the utilization of this surplus food means that the general supply will then be left for dependent consumers to draw upon.

Kentuckians also are called upon by Mr. Sackett to do what they can in alleviating a condition that approaches a sugar famine in France. The French government has requested the United States to allow them to import 100,000 tons of sugar during the next month. Inasmuch as this country only has sufficient sugar on hand to meet the normal consumption in this country until January 1, at which time the new West Indian crop becomes available, Americans are requested to cut down their sugar ration and reduce by one-third purchases of sugar and candy. The Food Administration states that it does not desire to interfere with the purchasing of sugar for preserving, and that if the suggestion is met to cut consumption one-third the French situation can be saved.

Save on Your Bread.

With regard to the wheat and flour supply, one writer has quoted figures to show that if the 20,000,000 families in the United States will save just one slice of white bread each day, that this insignificant saving will result in releasing 15,000,000 ounces of flour, 937,500 pounds daily, or approximately 4,750 barrels.

According to Mr. Sackett, the saving in bread is only one of numerous plans for conserving the food supply that will be issued from time to time by the Food Administration. He estimates that five per cent of the food that ordinarily goes to waste daily in the United States would feed the State of Kentucky, and that ten per cent, if intelligently utilized, would be sufficient to feed the states of Indiana, Ohio and Illinois.

Readers will understand from these figures the magnitude of the undertaking that confronts America. It will be comparatively easy of execution if the proper amount of co-operation is forthcoming immediately. You can not begin the work too soon. See your county chairman at once, offer your services, make ready to sign the pledge card that appears below, and do everything in your power to interest your neighbors and friends all over the country.

PLEDGE CARD FOR UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION. TO THE FOOD ADMINISTRATOR.

I am glad to join you in the service of food conservation for our nation and I hereby accept membership in the United States Food Administration, pledging myself to carry out the directions and advice of the Food Administrator in my home, insofar as my circumstances permit.

SAVE FOOD IS MESSAGE

Save every scrap of food as the you were saving human lives.

This is the message to American housewives from Mrs. William Pemberton Reeves, joint women's director in the British food ministry.

"Food economy is now actually economy of human life because it preserves the noncombatant at home from the menace of starvation, and lightens the burden of those daily risking their lives at sea in defiance of the U-boats, so we Englishwomen have come to think of food in terms of life and death.

"More, the food crisis has become the central crisis of the war.

"Let me suggest the use of substitutes wherever possible.

"If American women use substitutes they will leave free for shipment more basic foods.

"This would effect prices here. And cost is as important as economy. It is ridiculous to preach economy to the poor who, far from wasting food, can hardly buy enough.

"American women must realize the British determination to win is their only bulwark against national disaster until their own military force has been fully developed. So in economizing American women will be acting in self-defense."

A Brave Man Under a Cloud

By WARREN MILLER

A large amount of silver plate and jewelry had been taken by burglars from a rich man's house. The burglars escaped without being seen. The police got busy and tracked some of the plunder to a pawnshop. The pawnbroker declared that it had been brought in by a respectable looking man who represented himself as a man of business who had been well to do and had met reverses. The pawnbroker was suspicious of him, but he told so straight a story that the pawnbroker was finally convinced and bought several hundred dollars' worth of articles from him. The next day the purchased goods were identified as having been stolen.

That is as far as the police got in the matter till one day the pawnbroker met a man on the street who resembled the broken down merchant who had sold him the stolen goods. He followed the suspect and on coming to a policeman turned him over. The captive showed a great deal of indignation at his arrest and threatened the pawnbroker with suit for damages as soon as he had been acquitted. He said that he was not a merchant and had never been a merchant. He was a seafaring man and had been ashore only a few weeks. He gave his name as Patrick Dugan and was a native of Ireland.

When the trial came off the prisoner claimed that on the date of the theft or, rather, the sale of the plunder to the pawnbroker he was not in America at all. The prosecuting attorney asked him where he was at that time. Before replying he asked the date and was reminded that the pawnbroker's entry in his cash book of the payment for the goods he had purchased was Aug. 15. The prisoner scratched his head thoughtfully, but could not remember where he was on the date named. He thought he was at sea, but was not sure. Asked if he kept no record that would prove his case, he said that he didn't even know how to write.

This statement threw doubt on his accuser's statement that he had palmed himself off as a merchant in reduced circumstances and gained sympathy from the jury. Even the prosecuting attorney tried to help the poor man to get evidence to prove his alibi.

"If the captain of the Mark Hutchins was here," said the prisoner, "he could tell where I was on that day, for all that summer I was sailing with him."

"Where is the party?" asked the prisoner's counsel.

"He was here for two weeks till yesterday. I seen him in the street and tried to speak to him, but I lost him in the crowd. I seen by the papers that his ship was to sail last night when the tide served."

"What's that yer sayin'?" said one of the spectators. "I'm cap'n of the Mark Hutchins, and I haven't sailed neither. I sail tomorrow. One of my crew told me that an old messmate, Pat Dugan, was to be tried today for sellin' stolen goods. Dugan was a good man, and I thought I'd come round and see if the man bein' tried was him. But that feller isn't Pat Dugan. He's a fraud."

"Cap'n," cried the prisoner, almost in tears, "don't say that. I'm Pat Dugan sure enough. I've cut my beard since you saw me. Don't you remember that night when we was roundin' Cape Cod with the wind blowin' a gale out of the north and fo'castle covered with ice and the main jib had to be lowered?"

"Are you the man that went out on the bowsprit at the risk of slidin' overboard and lowered that jib?"

"Why, sarlin, cap'n. Don't go back on me now. I stood by you and the crew that awful night."

"I reckon you did stand by me. That was the bravest deed in my reckonin'. It was purty high sure death. There was nothin' but slippery ice to hold on to."

"Let the witness take the stand," said the attorney for the defense. The captain having been sworn the lawyer proceeded to question him.

"Was the prisoner a member of your crew in the summer of 19--?"

"He was."

"Where was your ship on the 15th of August of that year?"

"Well, now, if you'd asked me where I was on the 1st of that month or the last of it I couldn't have told you without lookin' over the log. But I can never forget the middle of that month of that year. We run aground on the coast of Africa and couldn't get off. A party of cutthroat niggers came off in boats to murder us and take the ship before the tide rose and let us off. Pat Dugan there suggested that we fight 'em with hot steam from the boilers. He took one hose and I the other. We bent 'em off, and if it hadn't been for Pat's suggestion we'd have all been heaved overboard as dead men."

The prisoner was the center of the admiring vision of the court and spectators. He bore his honors modestly, and no one would have taken him for a hero had it not been for the witness' story. The jury acquitted him without leaving their seats.

A few days later a policeman, who had been on duty in court at the trial, saw the captain of the Mark Hutchins and the man for whom he had proved an alibi getting into an automobile. The policeman had seen the owner get out of it and, suspecting that something was wrong, stopped them. They were tried for attempted theft and sent up for a term of years. They were both old crooks.

Tablecloth Tempted Deer.

A tablecloth ornamented with a design of green leaves until recently graced the board of a farmhouse in Dark Moon road, back of Allamuchy, N. J., and was the particular pride of the farmer's wife, Mrs. William Crawn. One morning lately Mrs. Crawn hung it on a clothesline, and in half an hour was surprised and pained, according to the New York Herald, to see three deer eating it greedily.

WAISTLINE BELOW NORMAL

Lanvin Clings to Slavic and Russian Fashions—Worth Still Uses Trains and Rhinestones.

New York.—This is a vastly exciting time in the fashion zone. It is not alone exciting because women want new clothes for a new season, but for the more important reason that commerce in this country is entirely entangled in the industry of clothes.

A question as to what will be worn is supposed to concern itself with woman's vanity. Never was there such a foolish conclusion. The question of what will be worn is inextricably mixed up with the lives of millions of industrial workers in this country, and upon its judicious adjustment depend the bread and butter, the happiness and the ability to be free from nervous depression of thousands of men too old or too young to fight and thousands of women who have not the leisure to offer their services to war relief.

It is a curious thing that the woman who wants to know, even through an assumed indifference, whether her coat and skirts are in fashion, should be so densely ignorant of the vast ramifications of fashions into the innermost recesses of American life.

No one laughs at fashions in Paris. No one takes them lightly. Every one regards them as a supreme branch of French industry that brings welfare to millions. Each artist takes his or her designs for new clothes under serious consideration, and the state accords them the merit or demerit that they deserve.

Now, what have these great designers done for America this season? That is the leading question among the shopkeepers, the dressmakers, the millions of woman workers in the in-makers. The fabric is difficult to describe, because it owes everything to its manner of weaving.

Poiret uses an unusual amount of black and white and brings back quantities of black and white jet lavishly arranged on frocks with a Slavic or Oriental tendency.

His evening gowns feature the high line at the neck, which he has always sponsored. His wife, a beautiful woman who wore his clothes better than anyone else, always adopted the evening gown which showed only two or more inches of the neck and dropped in a flexible line to a low belt.

Poiret will never give up the skirt that suggests Turkish trousers. It is almost as much a symbol of his work as the flat, red rose that he used in his Martine house decorations. He does not object to the separate bodice of velvet that forms part of the evening gown, although he has watched a good many other dressmakers use it since he invented it nearly half a dozen years ago.

Lanvin Is Slavic.

There have been so many things in common between Paul Poiret and Jeanne Lanvin for so many years that some dressmakers have insisted that they are related or that the houses are commercially connected. The personalities of these two designers in France are as different as can be, even beyond the fact that one is a woman and one is a man.

Therefore, it is not surprising that while Poiret clings to the sumptuous effects of an exotic past, Lanvin also continues to hammer upon the anvil of Slavic and Russian fashions.

She has gone to Serbia and Roumania for inspiration and probably draws a color, a line or a suggestion from the Cossacks of central Russia. In direct contrast to these short, brilliant Slavic clothes, she has put out a most dignified evening gown. The skirt is quite long, but without a train, and the belt is nearly over the hip-line. The top part of the skirt has the tightness of the days of the Renaissance, and judging by the many things that Lanvin is doing, as well as other French dressmakers, it looks as though the loose blouse in any form will soon belong to a day that is done.

This is not startling news to the American woman, because the smartly dressed young women have been adopting the tight bodice and the long, tight sleeves in their summer clothes, even making them of gingham and especially of jersey cloth.

Lanvin also exploits the large waist-

Here are two evening gowns that suggest the directoire. At the left is a dinner frock of pink silk and malines lace. The silk coat has a peplum that turns into pockets, and there are lace sleeves. The skirt of lace hangs in ragged points at the ankles. At the right the gown is of pale lilac taffeta, embroidered on the lower sleeves in pale green, yellow and pink. The bodice is finished with a loose band of colored beads and fastened with neck lace of purple velvet ribbon.

dustry of clothes, the mills, the manufacturers, the importers and the exporters.

We know that the styles for the autumn have been settled, but the masses do not know what each designer has done and what each great fashion establishment has sponsored.

To begin with, Paul Poiret has again opened his house, to show models. That interesting little sign that went up over his house on the Avenue d'Antin, which was also placed on many other doors, saying that the place would be closed until the end of the war, has been taken down. France may have foreseen a long war, but her people felt that things would come to a crisis before the fourth year broke.

Waistline Below Normal. Poiret is always important; therefore, what he shows is of interest. To begin with, he features the waistline which is dropped below the normal, in the Oriental manner. There is very little that would ever appeal to Poiret in the first and second empire fashions. He is strongly barbaric in what he does. He has a genius for fabrics. He knows the art of weaving and dyeing better than most artists in Paris do, and he has special places that work out his ideas. Therefore, he has been able to make frocks in the new kind of plush which will be very hard to get in this country, but which will be desired because it has been featured by a few of the great French dress-coat in various materials, to be worn under a coat suit and to serve as a blouse or jerkin when the coat is removed.

The hats she produces with these gowns are often small of brim. She clings to the Russian effect, but she has introduced a small edition of the Continental worn by Lafayette and Washington.

Worth Continues Trains.

Although several of the leading French designers have contributed to the demand for conservation of material by eliminating trains, Worth continues to use these appendages to evening gowns. One would feel that Worth was not himself if he abolished rhinestones or trains, and it makes one feel quite safe that he has not done so.

His bodices are not only covered with rhinestones, but glisten with cut jet in different colors. He uses dark blue and beige for the evening, built in satin and velvet.

Like Poiret, he uses the low waistline, but no matter how heavy his skirts, the bodices are transparent, which is not in sympathy with Poiret at all.

He tries out a bit of first Empire here and there, and he has taken up that wonderful hydrangea blue that Callot made so famous the summer before the war.
